Splash-Guard Shield:

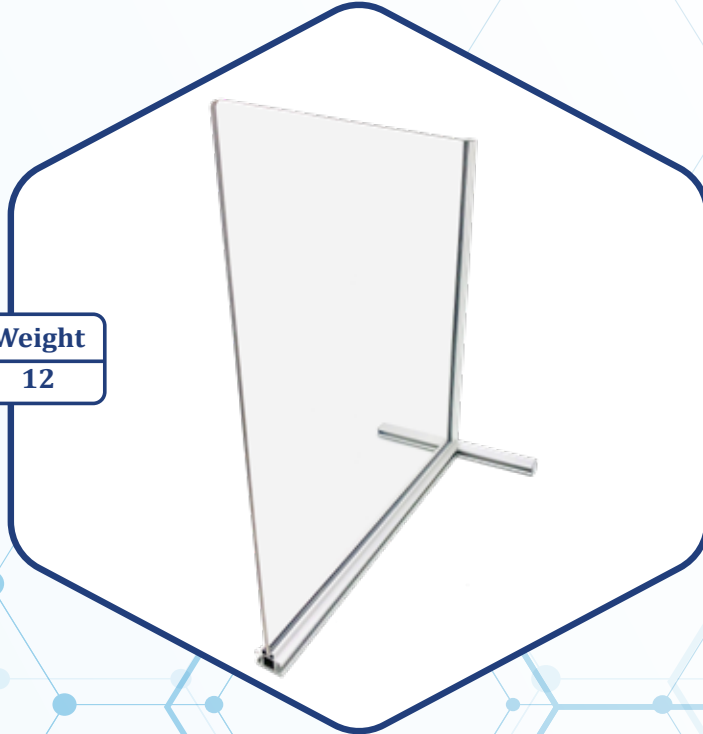

Splash-Guard is a simple lab helper and personal protective equipment (PPE). It is a convenient way to provide anyone with a safer, well defined comfortable work area. Set it on a bench close to the work area to keep droplets from spreading to your area and contaminating work load.

Position several of the shields at intervals along the bench to keep different set-ups from encroaching on each other.

Guard your project from the mishaps of nearby activities or persons.

Made of 1/4" acrylic and anodized aluminum extrusion for years of service.

Great for many applications of PPE.

Safety Shield Extensions:

Acrylic shield extensions are a great way to protect employees from germs and bioburden. They can be used as a physical barrier. These are especially useful in an office setting where lower cubicles exist. Powerful magnets are utilized to secure the panels to the top ridge of the cubicle or can be used in a vertical position.

Made of 1/4" acrylic for years of service.

Great for many applications of PPE.
